

3 Great Companies Ways to Give

American Airlines - #789403
AIDS Arms Business ExtAA Account

Online - add # to "Business AA"
Section during checkout.

Phone - give agent above account #
In Person - give agent to place in
"Tour Code Box."

Business ExtrAA allows AIDS Arms to earn points towards the purchase of services. You still get to keep and redeem your own miles.

Tom Thumb - Don't forget to link
AIDS Arms Good Neighbor number
- 826 to your Reward Card and help raise funds with each purchase at no cost to you.

Kroger - Download a letter under "Special Gifts" from our website www.aidsarms.org and link your Kroger Plus Card to AIDS Arms.

Unsung Hero Award Phillip Matthews

Phil is a great Case Manager;
he focuses attention on linking clients to quality care.

He keeps a positive attitude with clients, colleagues and maintains open communication with his Supervisor. ♦

The Big Picture Extraordinary People Doing the Extra Ordinary

What happens when you add together entrepreneurship, a passion for serving the community, and almost 35 years of marriage?

You have the unique combination of Eliza Solender and Gary Scott, partners who met in graduate school and now work side-by-side. Eliza is the owner and principal broker for Solender/Hall, Inc. a boutique commercial real estate company founded in 1991 specializing in representing nonprofits and business owners.

When AIDS Arms moved from the Lemmon Avenue area to Sunset Avenue in Oak Cliff in 1999, Solender/Hall represented the agency through the entire process.

Most recently, Eliza assisted the organization in its office move to the Jefferson Tower and conversion of the former office space on Sunset to the new Trinity Health & Wellness Center. Because of the complexity, the entire project took more than two years to accomplish.

Gary was heavily involved in a "behind the scenes" role providing his expertise as a commercial real estate attorney many times during the negotiations with both owners of the Oak Cliff properties.

However, his most visible role was in providing pro bono legal services for AIDS Arms in the sublease with Avita Drugs for their pharmacy space next door to the Trinity Health & Wellness Center.

AIDS Arm's Raeline Nobles, sums it up best. "Eliza's calm and very knowledgeable process helped us move our planning, site selection, negotiation, legal due diligence (with Gary's considerable assistance) and construction to a positive outcome – a new 13,000-square-foot state of the art medical clinic and a new headquarters for our administrative and social services.

Our programs are stronger and more responsive today than they have ever been before for our clients and our community."

Working with AIDS Arms is proof that a devoted couple can combine their expertise to positively impact the lives of countless people in their community. ♦

Eliza Solendar and Gary Scott have a passion for serving the community.

They were instrumental in the opening of AIDS Arms Trinity Health & Wellness Center and relocation of administrative offices to Jefferson Tower.
Thank you.

